Greetings from the GPO President

When we last came together we were still celebrating our all-in province wide effort that made our leader the first elected Green MPP in Ontario. At that meeting we were already working on our new highest priority: showing voters that we were worthy of their support. I am happy to conclude that we are well along the way to accomplishing that objective.

Mike Schreiner has done an excellent job of representing the party both provincially and locally in Guelph. As an MPP he has used his increased visibility and earned media wisely. He's been showing a broader electorate what we knew all along, that the GPO is an honest player with practical ideas that can punch above its weight. More than a few people have quipped to Mike that he has been the actual opposition at Queen's Park. Our track record over the last 2 years has helped fuel the record levels of fundraising and membership in the GPO that we are experiencing today.

We now have a second priority quickly ramping up. There are four years in between provincial elections and more than one and a half have already gone by since the last one; we now need to start preparing in earnest for the general election in 2022. Electing one MPP was just the start. We can elect more.

Preparations for 2022 are already well underway. By design, we came out of the last provincial election debt free. We've already been putting money aside in a war chest for the next campaign. We also have more staff than we did four years ago, staff that can help us to build the kind of organizational capacity we will need to elect more MPPs.

Without proportional representation, the rules of the game will all but force us once again to target our resources to ridings where we have the best chances of winning. Those will be the ridings whose local initiatives over the next two years will show that they are the best prepared and organized for a winning campaign in 2022. Once again we will need member support and understanding that this strategy, as one-sided as it may be, is the best way to move our party and policy directions forward.

The best thing all members can do between now and 2022 is to stay active and visible locally. Don't treat the abundant time in between elections as down time. Instead, run an issue campaign, build your CA with members and volunteers, engage in local fundraising and recruit potential candidates. Keep the motor running and enter 2022 with momentum!

Ard Van Leeuwen President, Green Party of Ontario

Welcome message from the Leader of the GPO

Thank you for joining us in Scarborough on the traditional territory of the Wendat, the Anishnaabeg, Haudenosaunee, Métis, and the Mississaugas of the Scugog, Hiawatga, and Alderville First Nation for the 2019 Green Party of Ontario convention. We have an exciting weekend ahead of policy discussion, workshops and inspiring talks.

A green wave is growing across our country and I am honoured that you have chosen to be part of it in Ontario. Now more than ever we need Greens at every level of government to protect the people and places we love.

I have been the leader of this party for 10 years, and the highlight was undoubtedly being elected to the Ontario legislature in 2018 after years of hard work by so many Greens.

From the day I was sworn in as Ontario's first Green MPP, I have been working to bring our core Green values to Queen's Park: sustainability, ecological wisdom, social justice, non-violence, participatory democracy and respect for diversity.

Having a seat at the table has given us a stage to demonstrate how we do politics differently, putting collaboration over confrontation and solutions over slander.

We all know the serious damage the Premier is doing to our environment and public services. But I am grateful for the opportunity to show Green alternative - a vision to solve the climate emergency by embracing the $26 trillion global clean economy.

Because I firmly believe Ontarians are problem solvers, not problem deniers.

As a single MPP, every day is a marathon of debates, meetings, and events - all focused on representing my constituency and building the Green Party of Ontario. It is the most rewarding experience I've ever had, but we need more Green MPPs to share in this work and to turn Ontario's Green ripple into a wave in 2022.

So this weekend, and as we approach the next election, I am asking you to help us build the Green Party in your community, and to support your local constituency association in the grassroots work they do.

Thank you for being here, and for being part of our mission to leave a livable planet for our children and grandchildren.

Mike Schreiner Leader, Green Party of Ontario

INTRODUCTION TO GPO CONVENTIONS

Plenary and Voting

WHAT IS PLENARY?

Plenary is the part of the convention that is attended by all participants (as opposed to the other breakout sessions throughout the weekend). In the GPO, we use the term plenary to refer to the parts of our convention where we consider and vote on constitutional, policy and directive resolutions.

WHAT ARE RESOLUTIONS?

During the conference, we will consider 3 types of resolutions that set a particular direction for the GPO:

- Policy resolutions that set a position for the GPO on a specific issue, ie The GPO supports Trees and Birds.
- Constitutional resolutions that modify our constitution, and
- Directive resolutions that request a particular course of action for operations of the party.

WHAT ORDER WILL WE REVIEW RESOLUTIONS?

We'll look at policy, constitutional and directive resolutions, in that order.

The resolutions will be ranked by convention delegates prior to the Policy Workshops that we are holding on Saturday morning. If you have yet to rank your policy selections online, please visit the registration desk and rank your selections on Friday evening.

We will discuss the top ranked policies during the Policy Workshops on Saturday morning before voting at Plenary on Sunday.

WHEN DO WE VOTE?

We will vote on resolutions during Plenary on Sunday morning.

HOW DO WE VOTE?

We use a voting method called the Bonser Method to consider resolutions. For our general convention process, or where the Bonser Method is silent, we use Robert's Rules of Order.

Here is a brief introduction to the Bonser Method of voting. More information is available in the Bylaw F of the GPO constitution. If there is a discrepancy between these instructions and the bylaw, the bylaw is the authority.

Presentation

The sponsor of the resolutions or a designate presents the resolution and explains its merits for a maximum of 2 minutes.

Questions of clarification

Delegates (that's you!) can ask up to a total of 3 short questions of clarification of 30 seconds maximum (3 total per resolution, not per delegate). This is not a presentation of arguments for or against the resolution, rather an explanation of a point that may not be clear.

At this point, only minor wording changes ('friendly amendments') that clarify the resolution in response to the questions asked shall be allowed - no opinions, amendments, or speaking to the content of the resolution.

Debate

Delegates can next speak in favour or in opposition to a resolution: up to 2 people with supporting arguments, and 2 people with opposing arguments. Maximum 30 seconds per person.

Two microphones will be set up on the plenary floor for this purpose (a "pro" mic and a "con" mic). If there are more than 2 people at a mic, it's good to consult with each other to ensure the best arguments are put forward. The plenary chairs may extend the debate for up to 5 minutes.

Vote

Once debate has been closed, the chairs will then move to a vote. To vote for the motion, show your voting card:

- a. Green to support the resolution.
- b. Red to oppose the resolution.
- c. Yellow to send the resolution to workshop. This means that you could support the motion, given changes that would be suggested during a break out workshop.

Note: some delegates may carry proxy votes on behalf of members who aren't able to be present at the meeting.

The motion passes if more than 60% of the votes cast are green, and is defeated if more than 60% of the votes cast are red. Any other outcome means the resolution will be sent to a workshop session for possible amendment.

You do not have to vote on every resolution.

Workshops

At an appropriate time in the agenda, generally after 3 resolutions are voted to go to workshop, the chair calls a breakout workshop session. In each workshop, a resolution is discussed and amended, and recommendations to the assembly may also be prepared.

You can choose whichever workshop is of most interest to you.

At the workshop, the resolution is debated in more detail, and amendments are proposed to address any concerns raised. Final wording of the resolution is brought back to the plenary for a final vote.

Final Vote

At the close of the workshops, plenary resumes and the updated resolution is provided for consideration. The workshop leader is given time to explain the reasons behind the changes (if any). 3 questions of clarification are permitted. Friendly amendments (wording changes that don't affect the meaning of the resolution) are allowed, but there is no further debate on the resolution.

A second vote on the resolution is held. In this final vote, only votes in favour (green) or opposed (red) are permitted. If 60% of the cards displayed are green, the resolution passes. The resolution is defeated with any other outcome.

GUIDELINES FOR PLENARY

It is extremely important to attend plenary sessions on time: each year, several resolutions are not considered because time runs out. You can help ensure that we get through all resolutions submitted this year by arriving to plenary on time.

We use rules of order to make sure our convention runs smoothly, fairly, and on time. With cooperation and agreement from delegates in plenary, we may from time to time turn from formal process to achieve these objectives. We look forward to your active participation. We also ask that you remember to be respectful of others at all times. Participatory democracy always demands polite discourse.

TERMS YOU MAY HEAR (OR USE!) DURING PLENARY

Please remember to direct your questions or points to the plenary chair(s).

Point of Privilege

Used if a delegate has an issue relating to noise, personal comfort (ie it's too hot!) etc. Please interrupt proceedings only if necessary!

Point of Information

Generally, applies to information desired from the speaker: "I should like to ask the (speaker) a question."

Point of Order

Raises an issue relating to an infraction of the rules, or improper decorum in speaking. Must be raised immediately after the error is made.

Main Motion

Brings new business (the next item on the agenda) before the assembly. Divide the Question: Divides a motion into two or more separate motions (must be able to stand on their own).

Amend

Inserting or striking out words or paragraphs, or substituting whole paragraphs or resolutions.

Withdraw/Modify Motion

Applies only after question is stated; mover can accept an amendment without obtaining the floor.

Extend Debate

Applies only to the immediately pending question; extends until a certain time or for a certain period of time.

Limit Debate

Closing debate at a certain time, or limiting to a certain period of time. A member may do this by 'calling the question'.
